LAST THING:

A QUICK NOTE TO YOU

Okay. You've probably never done anything like this before. This might have seemed like a stretch. Too militant, maybe. Or too "intentional"- we love spontaneity, right? ...but give it a shot, even if it feels a little strange.

Before you go, have a family talk, agree to these rhythms, then pray together, asking God for all the things you've laid out.

And after it's over, revisit this trip you took.

Was it worth it? Was all this thinking and planning and talking just another task to do? Or did it really connect you more as a family? Did you really get to know each other better, make permanent memories, and have Big Fat Fun together?

Round up, back home, after the big trip is all over, and just check in. What was great about what you just did? What should you NOT repeat? And what should become a tradition because it was just so... YOU?

At that last round up, also thank your Good God, Who is more than just your Provision, but is your Generous and Gracious Father, Who knows how to give wonderful gifts.

Two thumbs way up.
